MAY 1, 2006, EDMOND, OKLAHOMA. WeatherBank, Inc., a leader in the weather services industry, announced today that it has recently received the publication notice from the United States Patent Office of its four (4) allowed U. S. Patent Applications.

The four Patents are: # 6,980,909; # 6,985,813; # 6,988,037; and # 7,024,310.

"These new Patents deal with the wireless transmission of content to end-users, or what's known as Location Based Services, or simply "LBS." These new Patents broaden the claims of the Company's earlier Patents in its Interactive Weather Advisory System and its Interactive Advisory System," said Michael and Steven Root, twin brothers, co-inventors of the Patent, and WeatherBank's Executive Vice President/CFO, and President/CEO, respectively.

"These new Patents brings the total to eight (8) U. S. Patents owned by WeatherBank dealing with LBS," explained Michael Root.

WeatherBank, Inc., is located in Edmond, Oklahoma, a suburb of Oklahoma City. The company is a leader in providing custom weather data and products, with applications to all industries. The company also provides programming solutions for all applications.
